

HOST THE PROMISE KEEPERS MEN'S CONFERENCE FROM YOUR CHURCH

// July 16 - 17, 2021

Do you want to see the men in your community ignited with love for God, motivated to serve their neighbors, and connected with one another?

By hosting a Promise Keepers simulcast event, we give you the tools to bring an exciting event with world-class speakers and worship to your town. There's no need to organize speakers, worship leaders, or topics. As a leader, you'll be able to spend the day of the event alongside other men, building connection, and worshipping God.

Plus, it's an affordable outreach opportunity to bless your neighborhood and bring men together.

This opportunity is open to churches and organizations.

WHY HOST A PROMISE KEEPERS SIMULCAST?

Men everywhere are suffering, experiencing isolation, and lack of purpose. We believe God is on the move among the men in our world, and that we can best serve men by encouraging them towards renewal and providing them connection with the Body of Christ.

Hosting a simulcast event of the Promise Keepers Men's Conference gives men the opportunity to experience the event alongside their brothers without the travel time to AT&T Stadium. It also allows hosts to present the simulcast as an outreach opportunity to men in your area who may not attend church.

During the week of the Promise Keepers Men's Conference, there will be ONLY two ways to participate: by gathering live at AT&T Stadium or by watching at a simulcast location.

(After the conference, we will offer small groups the opportunity to host watch parties and provide opportunities for individuals to access the event recording—but for the week of the event, we're limiting opportunities to in-person gatherings at AT&T Stadium OR simulcast locations.)

LAST YEAR'S CONFERENCE

Promise Keepers launched its first comeback event during the summer of 2020 with the Promise Keepers 2020 Men's Conference. Speakers included Dr. Tony Evans, John Eldredge, and Pastor Steve Berger, with worship by Danny Gokey and Phil Wickham.

Hundreds of thousands of men were reached across the world with the gospel through the Promise Keepers 2020 Men's Conference, which showed the tremendous impact of making Promise Keepers local through simulcasts.

If you'd like to get a taste of a Promise Keepers event, the 2020 Men's Conference is still available to watch here.

This year's Promise Keepers Men's Conference is July 16-17th at AT&T Stadium in Dallas/Fort Worth. We anticipate 80,000 men to join us at the stadium and even more gathering through simulcasts across the world.
