

We are enthusiastic supporters of DadsWorks

Mr. David Berry has let God use him to do some awesome things for men in and around Westminster, MD. Recently, he has expanded (with his wife Diane's help) into serving women as well. Teaching relationship and life skills to those less fortunate.

One of his premier yearly events is the Daddy-Daughter Dance. This is the 7th year for creating relational memories between a father and his daughter. This relationship often is the foundation for a girls self-worth. She needs to feel valued and protected by her father in order to develop healthy relationships in life.

How about making an investment in your daughter and simultaneously support David in his work ?
